

University of Hradec Králové

The Faculty of Education

The Faculty of Education is the oldest faculty of the University of Hradec Králové. The University of Hradec Králové comprises five units: Faculty of Education, Faculty of Informatics and Management, Faculty of Arts, Faculty of Science and Institute of Social Work. About 9,000 students of the university can choose from tens of study programmes consisting of almost one hundred study disciplines.

Within BA, MA and PhD study programmes the students are trained for the profession of teachers for all levels and types of schools: nursery schools, lower and upper levels of primary schools and secondary schools. The faculty also trains special pedagogues, logopedics, instructors, free-time pedagogues, adult education specialists, sport coaches and trainers.

Department of Special Pedagogy PdF UHK

The BA degree programmes at the Department of Special Pedagogy specialize in training experts that will work in special education institutions or with people with sensory and communication defects,. The department also offers specialization extension courses in special pedagogy and logopedy.

The sub-department of sensoric and communication disorders of this department provides the BA degree programme Special – Pedagogical Care for Persons with Communication Disorders. This programme can be studied only as a full-time study in 3 years.

Students can pursue their studies in the MA Special Pedagogy in Rehabilitation and Humanitarian Activity degree programme (2 years).

www.uhk.cz